

LENSEC Opportunities Abound with New Ownership

JValley Software Solutions Assumes Ownership of the VMS Manufacturer

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE - Houston, TX, USA - Wednesday, August 10, 2016

LENSEC, the manufacturer of Perspective VMS™, has recently been acquired by JValley Software Solutions. The companies have a long history of working together. JValley software engineers have worked on software code with the team at LENSEC for many years. The teams have been developing Perspective VMS into an enterprise-level video management software for application in the IP security video market. JValley Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of LENSEC, Basheer F. Al Ghazawi, believes the companies have many strengths that will be built into a strong global presence in the physical security industry.

Al Ghazawi says, "I see this step as a natural move that will aid in the continuous growth of both companies. LENSEC has secured a number of notable projects within the United States. JValley Software Solutions is a successful distributor of Perspective VMS in the Middle East and North Africa region. I believe as a cohesive team we will extend the global reach of Perspective VMS."

LENSEC was established in 1998 and pioneered IP security video in the early days of video management software. The company built a reputation as a trusted security partner with experience in the United States and around the world. LENSEC has strong expertise working with commercial properties, government agencies, healthcare, K-12 schools, higher education, airports, oil & gas, critical infrastructure, shipping ports and more.

JValley was established in 2007 and has become a proven partner to businesses needing software products, services, and solutions. The company maintains a professional team with an uncompromising spirit of technical leadership and customer support.

LENSEC contracted JValley Software Solutions in 2008 to provide ongoing development resources. The result is a better video management software with powerful features. Perspective VMS is marketed internationally by LENSEC with JValley serving as a key distributor.

Marianna Leybovich, LENSEC Chief Executive Officer, says, "JValley and LENSEC have long been partners with a matching focus on product innovation and excellence. Working together for more than eight years with a united vision has resulted in an appealing new affiliation. With the two organizations joining together, I am excited for our teams, clients, and partners as we advance Perspective VMS globally."

Perspective VMS is an intuitive and flexible video management software that supports multi-site monitoring of live or recorded video. The browser-based software gives the user flexibility to view essential information on any computer workstation. Perspective VMS is currently deployed in physical security projects in the United States, the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Qatar, and India.

LENSEC and JValley Software Solutions will be attending the ASIS International 2016 Exhibit in Orlando, Florida in September. Security specialists will be demonstrating the power of Perspective VMS for security integrators and customers. The team will be available at Booth #3051 to answer questions about the software or the merger between the companies.
